COLORADO COLLEGE

The Colorado College is ideally located on the north side of the city of Colorado Springs and conveniently located in the residential district. It stands in a guardian position where the plains abruptly rise into the majestic forms of our towering peaks. Of these the world famous Pikes Peak is the grand commander in this mecca of the west.

Colorado Springs was founded by General William Jackson Palmer, a Union cavalry general, and, shortly afterwards in 1874 the college came into existence as one of the first institutions of higher learning in the territory.

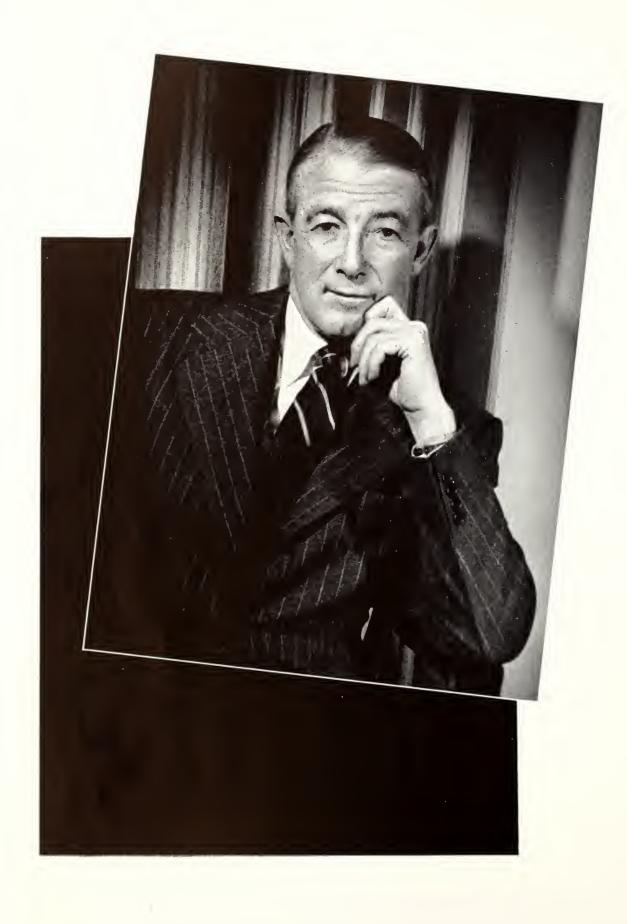

The geographical location of the college makes it an ideal place for a well rounded curriculum. Here one also has the advantages of the finest in culture in the Fine Arts Center, the Department of Music, the modern dance classes, languages, and other Fine Arts. In the Schools of Natural Sciences and Social Sciences there is found complete harmony, understanding and an informal, personal attitude existing between the professor and the student.

Colorado College has developed a very fine athletic department, completely free of subsidation. Here the student participates in athletics only for the enjoyment of clean sportsmanship and competition.

Every student enjoys the excellent opportunities presented in out-of-doors life. They enthusiastically participate in skiing, riding, hiking, mountain climbing, skating, steak fries and beer bust. Golf and tennis can be played out-of-doors on the average of ten months out of the year.

The social life of the student includes the many dances, teas, and other functions sponsored by the Independent men's and women's organizations and the fraternities and sororities. Many social functions are given for the whole school by the Associated Students of Colorado College. The student has access to the city of Colorado Springs, the fashionable Broadmoor Hotel and its Ice Palace, polo grounds, swimming pools, golf course and tennis courts. The school is only an hour's drive from some of the world's best ski slopes and the City of Denver. These are only the highlights of the opportunities offered to the average student at Colorado College.

MUSIC

Pictured on the opening page of this section is Johanna Harris, who has been a visiting professor at Colorado College since 1941. She began her phenomenal career at the age of six, and has since had many years of concert, broadcasting and recording experience. During the last ten years Johanna Harris has become an outstanding interpreter of contemporary music.

The gentleman to the right (opening page) is Roy Harris, who has distinguished himself as an outstanding American composer. He was twice appointed the Guggenheim Fellow in 1928 and 1930, and has studied composition under such teachers as Arthur Farwell and Nadia Boulanger. Today his works are played by our leading orchestras, recorded for phonograph, and are widely discussed in reviews, magazines and books. Roy Harris has been a composer in residence at Colorado College since 1943.

Cecil Effinger joined the Colorado College faculty in 1936. He is an alumnus of the college, and has studied composition under Boothroyd and Wagenaar. While in France he was a student of Boulanger. His compositions are growing in number and are receiving wide recognition.

Dr. Max Lanner, a recent addition to the music department, was born and educated in Vienna, Austria. In Europe he was active as teacher, performer (piano and violin) and conductor. In America he has been a concert-accompanist to many outstanding artists. He became a faculty member of the college in 1946.

Myrtle Bridges received her A.B. degree from Colorado College in 1932, and A.M. degree in 1935. She has been a member of the Colorado College faculty since 1924.

Miss Louise Metz received her musical training from Johanna Harris. In 1946 she joined the music department as an instructor of piano.

Mr. Wilcox began his musical career in Detroit, Michigan. In 1908 he moved to Denver, Colorado, where he took a foremost position among resident teachers, sang many concerts and recitals, directed numerous opera and choral performances, and trained many singers, many of whom won high positions as concert, radio and oratorio soloists. Later on, he became a resident member of the faculty at the American Conservatory of Music in Chicago. In 1943 Mr. Wilcox became a faculty member of the C. C. music department.

Frederick Tooley is Assistant Professor of voice, and has been a faculty member of the college since 1937. He received his B.M. degree from the Eastman School of Music, and M.M. degree from Northwestern University.

John Fundingsland is an instructor of the band and Public School music. He received his Master's degree from Northwestern University.

Carol Truax is the Executive Director of the Fine Arts Departments. She has been a member of the faculty since 1941.

EUTERPE

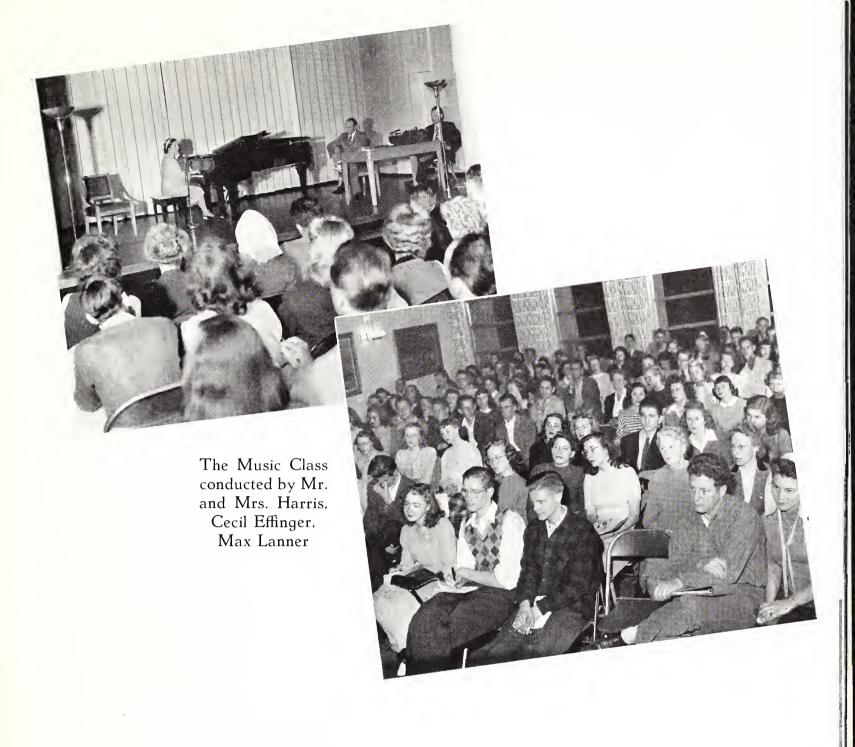

Every Thursday Euterpe meets in the Carnegie Room where the programs are arranged and given by students in the music department. Professors of the department and visiting artists of Colorado Springs contribute to the programs. All music students may join the club.

Boardman Robinson

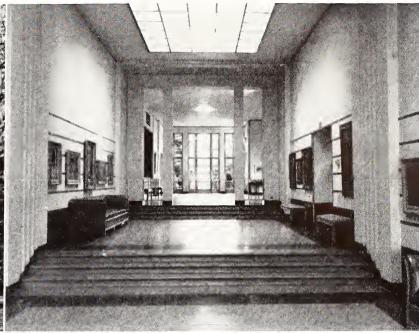

BOARDMAN ROBINSON

A close-up of the Fine Arts Center's pride, and joy, Boardman Robinson. Born in Somerset, Nova Scotia, in 1876, Mr. Robinson's life has been a useful, and interesting one. He first studied in Boston, then in Paris, Colarossi, Academie Julieu, The Beaux Arts. Often suffered poverty, and loneliness. Married Sally Whitney. They have two sons. Jack and Bartlett. Robinson was art editor of vogue in 1906. Besides from numerous illustrations, cartoons, exhibitions, and a biography the above is only a small chunk from the artists' life. Considered one of the finest American artists we have today, it will be with sorrow that those who knew him here in Colorado Springs, will watch Boardman Robinson leave for California, this June.

MODERN DANCE

On the upper left is a picture of Elizabeth Waters who says, "Dance directs the whole impetus to live," and she supports her philosophy by devoting her entire career to bringing the dance to all people, not just the privileged few. "Art must never be precious, it must spring healthy wholesome, lusty — for enjoyment's sake."

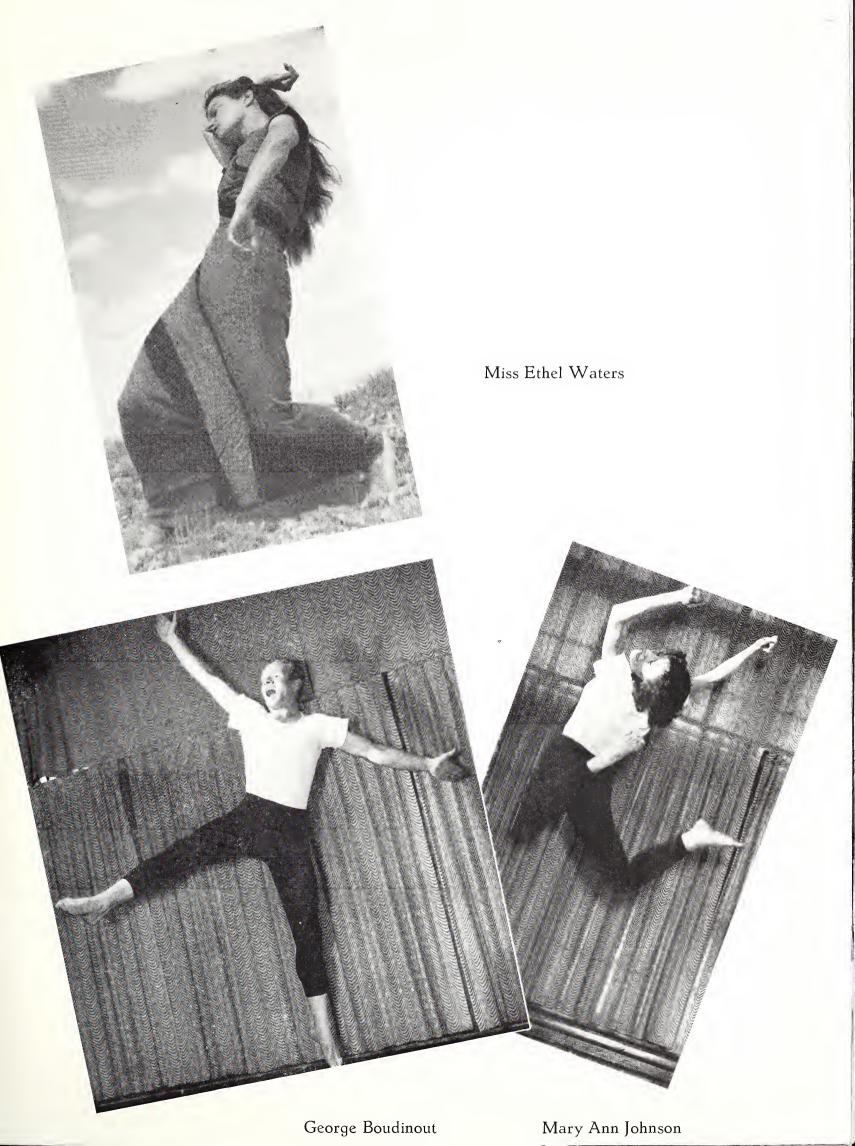

Miss Waters was born in Salem, Oregon. Her training in dance began at the Perry Mansfield School in Steamboat Springs, Colorado. She received a fellowship at the Hanya Holm School New York City, and later became an assistant with a Holm professional group and danced as soloist with a Holm concert company. She also worked with the Denishawn School under Ruth St. Denis.

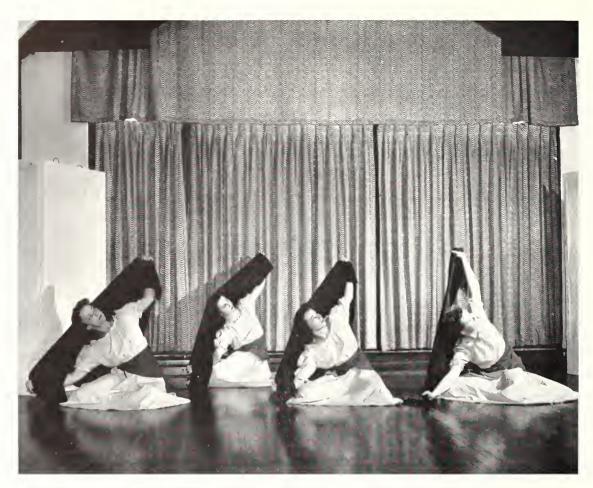

Elizabeth Waters has taught as guest instructor in a number of colleges and for the past several years has maintained a studio in Santa Fe where she conducted a children's "creative workshop" during summers when not on tour and not on teaching assignment. Her teaching has been interspersed with numerous concert tours throughout the country.

The summer of 1940, Miss Waters formed Dancers en Route. They "barnstormed" the whole country, and performed in both large cities and small. They found an audience, hitherto unfamiliar with modern dancing, did exist and was enthusiastic about their work. The musical accompaniment to their dances, too, reflects both verve and mature ability. Among the composers to whose music they dance are Ravel, Bartok, Ibert, —all contemporary composers; and the modern jazz composers McCoy, Scott, Higginbotham, and Gershwin; and Calypso music from the island of Trinidad. Various percussion instruments, an accordian, zither, piano and recordings give spirit to the performances.

Here, at Colorado College, Miss Waters has injected this spirit in her dance classes. She gives her pupils a progressive outlook on all things of today not only dance. It is profitable to all.

THE CHAPEL

This is our chapel. We all assemble here each Tuesday morning, it being generally accepted that whether we are Catholic, Protestant, Jewish, white, yellow or colored, we all believe in one God, the creator of the universe. That He governs it by His Providence. That He ought to be worshiped. That the most acceptable service we render to Him is doing good to His other children. This we accept but are we in error?

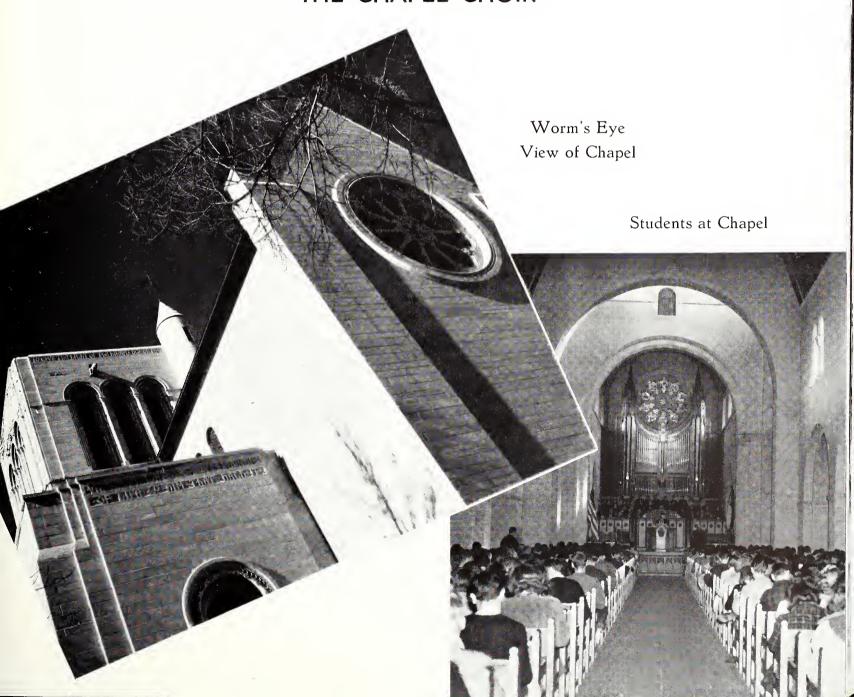

The worst of errors is to believe that any one religion has the monopoly on goodness. For every man, that religion is good which makes him gentle, upright and kind. In view of this we must carefully avoid prejudices that frequently arise among the student body and occasionally among the faculty, and not only here but where ever people are associated in large groups.

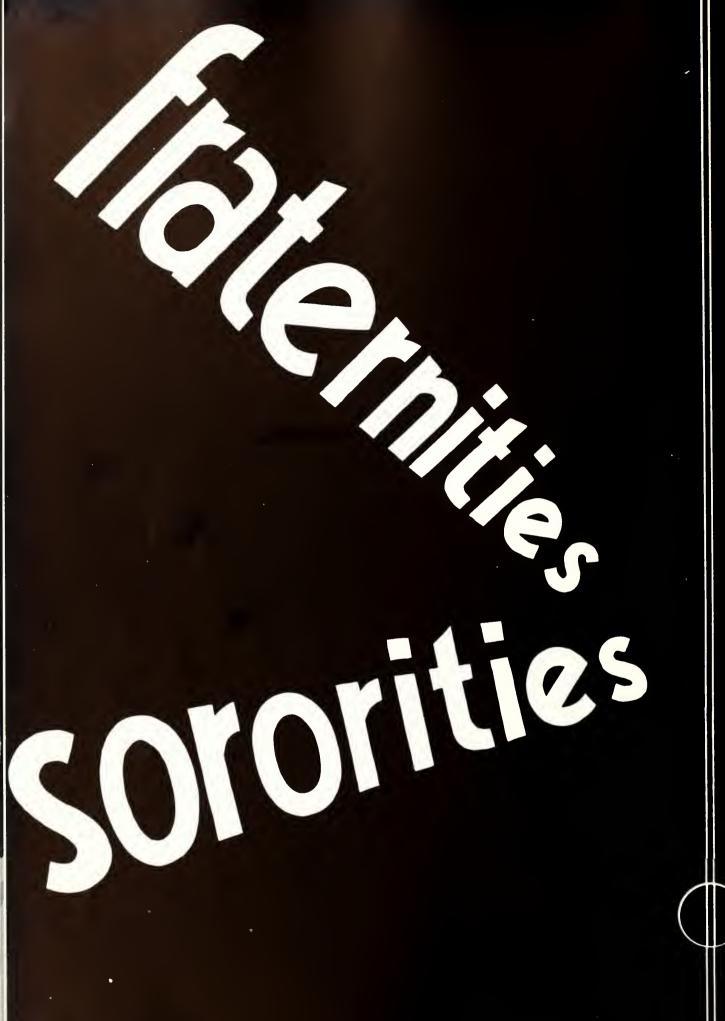

This is Colorado College in the United States. Here we do well to leave each to his own conviction, a conviction if strong enough will bring indefinable beauty into faces and hearts made of the most common human clay.

MOUNTAIN CLUB

The Colorado College Mountain Club was given a shot in the arm this year under the leadership of Vernon Twombly and has gained great popularity on the campus. This club presents a grand opportunity to those from out of state to see the scenic wonders of Colorado. Vernon is the 1946 addition to the famous AdAmAn Club.

THE GROWLERS CLUB

Back at full strength for the first time in four years, the Growlers boosted spirit with traditional C. C. rallies, supplemented by postwar innovations. We all remember the "Daybreak Dance" at Cossitt, the numerous snake dances through the city, the finale to the Christmas Hockey Holidays, and after hour get-together before the Minnesota game.

The club had its spirit boosted also with the addition of new jackets of a completely new design.

FOOTBALL

The 1946 Football season began three days before registration. Colorado College and Peru State met in Penrose Stadium on the night of September 20, and beneath the glare of floodlights the Tigers rolled up a score of 40 to 7.

September 28 C. C. maintained their victorious march with a 15 to 0 win over Fort Hayes in Penrose Stadium.

The following Saturday afternoon on the Washburn Field the Bengals and Montana State held each other to a 7 to 7 tie.

One of the best basketball teams to represent Colorado College in recent years swept through a twenty-two game schedule with the loss of only four games. The Tigers were particularly tough against non-conference foes winning fifteen of sixteen contests, including the reversed decision over Bradley University, one of the nation's leading quintets.

Despite injuries, the Bengals bowled over all early season opponents with ease, except the strong Texas Wesleyan five, who snatched a first minute win. In the conference race the Tigers led until the last two-game series against Montana State played at Bozeman. The Bobcats twisted the Tiger's tail on successive nights to win the Rocky Mountain Conference title.

While the season included a number of exciting games with accompanying thrills, the final game of the season against Bradley at Peoria provided a fitting climax. The official time piece went on a strike for a minute and a half late in the game and enabled the Braves to score a belated field goal in the additional time to go ahead one point. Bradley officials corrected the error later and recognized a well-earned 56-55 Colorado College victory.

Duane Quamme, who played the last half of the season with one hand encased in a protective brace, Rex Hester, and Ted Long finished their last season for the Black and Gold. Nick Yeonopolus, Eathan Miller and Ed Scott, along with the "kid brothers" Jack Quamme and Clay Scott, played also outstanding roles during the season. The reserve forces, bolstered considerably by freshmen, came in for their share and their play provided the winning margin in several important games.

HOCKEY

Coach Cheddy Thompson, starting his second year as mentor of the Bengal pucksters, called for an early commencement of hockey practices, as the Black and Gold faced one of the toughest schedules since the sport came into being at Colorado College From October 27 until the opening of their first pre-season game with the independent team from Tulsa, Oklahoma, the Tigers worked daily at the Ice Palace in preparation for their opening game November 29. Tulsa was no competition for the power-packed Thompson squad, as he unveiled three equally skillful forward walls in Clem Roy - Dick Rowell - Len Turner - Joe Slattery - Barry Whitworth - Sonnie McDonald and Howie Hushion - Red Seasons - Ronnie Newson. These lines collaborated in scoring 18 goals in their first encounter with the Tulsa six, and 16 in the second fray, while the Tiger defensemen of Ralph Toohy, Bill Tutten, Bruce Stewart, Lew Meir, Pat Reynolds, and George Ewonus kept the opposition in check for goalie Don Bates, who, with Jack Keyte, second string goalkeeper, held the Independents scoreless for the first two game series.

The Tulsa series left little doubt in the minds of most hockey fans as to the brand of hockey that the Tigers were capable of playing, and the realization that Coach Thompson had the makings of a powerhouse hockey team.

The first big test for the hard-fighting Bengals came during the Christmas vacation, which saw three of America's top hockey sextets performing on the Broadmoor ice. First opponent for the Bengals during the Hockey Holidays festivities was the powerful University of Michigan squad, which opened its two-game series with the Tigers December 27. With Life magazine capturing every move of the hockey escapades on film the Black and Gold downed the Wolverines in th first encounter to a 6-4 count, but dropped the second for their first loss of the season by a 5-1 score. Two days later, December 30, the vaunted Yale University team matched shots with the Bengals, and the final score stood at 4-3, in favor of C.C.

Dartmouth, the nation's claimants to the number one spot in collegiate hockey with her enviable record of 30 victories and 2 defeats over a period of two seasons, met the Black and Gold on January 3 in the first game of the New Year and posted a 4 to 3 victory after going into an overtime period. In the second contest before a jammed packed Ice Palace, it was Colorado College all the way as the Thompson forward walls and defense turned in one of their top exhibitions of skating, stickhandling and teamplay to win by a 5 to 2 score. The Tigers then scored victories six and seven against a fighting Michigan Tech. team by scores of 6 to 5 and 8 to 2 before heading for their first trip out of state to the West Coast. At Berkeley, the Bengals had little trouble in downing the University of California Bears by a count of 6 to 1. Against the strong Olympic Club of San Francisco, the CC pucksters started their scoring drive too late and were forced to bow to the Olympics by a close margin of 4 to 3.

Back on home ice in mid-January, the Tigers took revenge over the Olympics by taking a double victory, 9 to 4 and 5 to 0, over the Californians, and gave Bates his second shutout of the season. The twin win over the Olympic Club brought the Tiger team its tenth triumph, compared to three losses and recognition as one of the top collegiate teams in the country. Soon after this series, goalie Bates was hospitalized for an indefinite period. Two weeks later with Jack Keyte moving into the nets to replace Bates, the Tigers' hopes for a national championship were further dimmed when semester exams showed four players to be ineligible for the balance of the season. Despite this added handicap, the Tigers tackled the University of California Bears in a return engagement and came through by scores of 10 to 5 and 15 to 5.

The following week the Bengal ice squad journeyed to the southern shore of Lake Superior where they met Michigan Tech. Huskies in Houghton, Michigan. Playing on natural ice, victories thirteen and fourteen were registered by the Tigers with scores of 9 to 5 and 4 to 3. The triumphant CC hockey team returned home with their sights pointed toward the national championship and began vigorous practice for the invasion of the University of Minnesota Gophers who also held a very impressive record. With hopes high for a double victory and the right to claim the mythical title, they found that their sadly weakened team from a month previous, plus an unbeatable Minnesota goalie in Karakas was too much to overcome and they went down stubbornly to two defeats by counts of 8 to 3 and 15 to 2 and with them went the championship.

Thus Colorado College enjoyed its greatest hockey season since its inauguration in 1938 with the team's finest attributes being plenty of scoring punch, an abundance of team spirit, no individualists and excellent teamwork. Statistics on the season show that CC scored 133 goals with 71 for their opponents. Bates made 208 saves, Keyte stopped 152, while saves by opponents totaled 506. Harry Whitworth, freshman center from Toronto, Ontario, finished the ninteen game schedule as high scorer with 33 points on 19 goals and 14 assists. Runner-up was Dick Rowell, center from Winnipeg, Manitoba, with 32 points on 17 goals and 15 assists. Joe Slattery, Clem Roy and Sonnie MacDonald followed respectively in the scoring race. The line of Whitworth, Slattery and MacDonald paced the scoring efforts of the Tigers, accounting for the 45 goals and 41 assists. The Rowell-Turner-Roy combination took second spot honors with 39 goals and 33 assists.

The Minnesota games were the last encounters for the Tiger stalwarts Bruce Stewart, George Ewonus, Clem Roy, and Bill Tutten. They have performed brilliantly for Colorado College both before the war and during this past season. Much credit is given to Vern Wishart, Jack Might and Norm Nestlerode who, despite not seeing much action in games, were faithful in practice and spirit. Coach Cheddy Thompson should be very proud of his 1946-47 edition of Tiger pucksters and with a few additions to the fine squad already intact, he will be ready again to take on all comers.

BASEBALL 1947

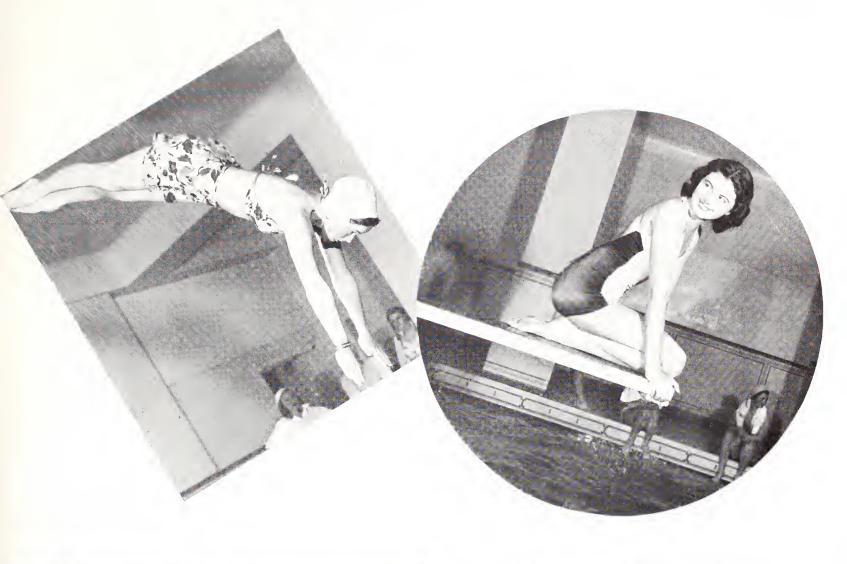

The Bengal Baseball machine got rolling on its $25~\text{game}\ 1947$ schedule on Stewart field when it met the 15th Air Force.

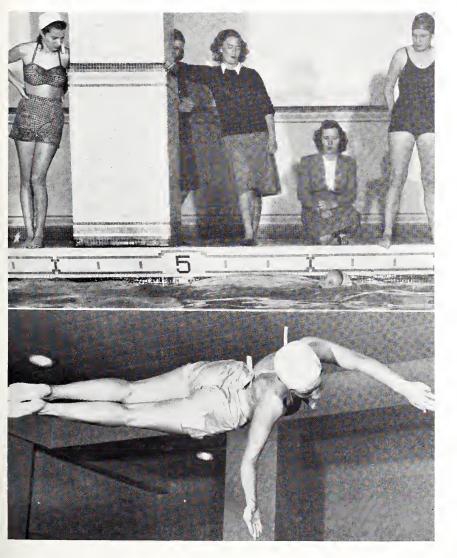

Coach Bill Goodnight had 35 candidates from which to pick a starting nine, and used his all veteran team which included Minuth and Milliken at catch; W. Goodnight, Taylor, Vornholt at pitch; Hull at first base, Schwartz at second base and at short stop and third base were Perkins and Rump; in the field positions Goodnight had Lilja, Roper, Wilson and Stewart. Leo Hill, distance hitter occupied the left field spot. The Tigers were potentially strong in every position but expected plenty of opposition in C. U., D. U., and Greeley.

SWIMMING MEET

January 23rd was a big night, remember? The W.A.A. swimming meet was held at the Broadmoor pool, at 8:00 p. m.

Excitement and anticipation reigned. The swimmers formed a splash of color in their different suits as they clustered at one end of the pool. The spectators leaned anxiously over the ropes around the pool. Then came the announcement, "Timers and Starters, ready?" The meet was on!

Kay Saunders whizzed across the finish line to place first for the Theta's in the 200 yard free style. Honors went to the Theta's Helen Reeds for the side stroke for form. The 40 yard free style found the Independents and the Theta's tied for first place. The next event, the back crawl for form, placed Nancy Bryson out in front for Kappa Alpha Theta. An exceedingly fast race followed. Janice Long whirled down the pool to capture first place in the 20 yard back crawl for the Kappa Kappa Gamma's. The 80 yard relay proved exciting with the Delta Gamma's and the Theta's vying for the honors. In both the front crawl and the breast stroke for form the Theta's were victorious.

The Novelty relay showed that the Delta Gamma's were most adept at handling a potato on a spoon, a lighted candle, and at blowing a ping pong ball across the pool.

The high point of the evening was the diving exhibition. Jean Pollock executed some beautiful dives, winning first place for herself and the Gamma Phi's.

The swimming meet was fun for all. The Theta's came through with flying colors to win and the Delta Gamma's and the Independents followed closely behind.

WOMEN'S SPORTS

Colorado College features a great variety of Women's Sports. The fall tournament of volleyball found the D.G.'s and the Theta's battling to a standstill for first place. The ping pong tournament followed, with Lois Cooley, Kappa Alpha Theta, taking the honors.

The Theta's captured the bowling title, also the swimming crown. At the Broadmoor Ice Palace, Jean Sutton won the free skating and figure skating crowns, during the ice skating championship, but the Delta Gamma's won the meet.

Regular gym classes are held in tennis, hockey, archery, basketball, swimming and folk dancing.

Major sports in the spring are enthusiastically played—tennis. softball and swimming top the list. Skiing has played a prominent part in C.C. Coed's activities, both winter and spring, any weekend look for them at Glen Cove, Climax, Cooper Hill, Berthoud Pass or Winter Park.

There's a sport for everyone!

INTRAMURALS

SOFTBALL

Post-war intramurals got a foothold in the spring of 1946 when the Phi Gams took the softball crown after being closely pressed by the Sigma Čhi's who had little difficulty in holding second place.

FOOTBALL

BASKETBALL

The Sigma Chi's were the first place winners. Kappa Sigs ended in second place and the Phi Gams third. These games were characterized by the old rivalry that existed pre-war and they proved to be closely won and hard fought contests.

CROSS COUNTRY RUN

The crosscountry was held during the halftime of the Bradley Tech. football game. The Kappa Sig's won first place shattering a Beta precedent. Phi Gams took second and the Sig's third

BOXING AND WRESTLING

The tournament was held the first part of March and featured many exciting matches in both There was plenty of competition in every class and the champs worked hard for their medals.

1946 HOMECOMING

The greatest Homecoming ever planned at Colorado College was to be witnessed by thousands of old grads in the fall of 1946.

The graduate Homecoming committee was set up and headed by Jack Dern. Plans for the November 8-9 event were being drawn up as early as April of the year. Lorena Berger had received hundreds of letters from the old gang saying that "I'll be there."

The undergraduate committee headed by Art Cervi got off to a good start and laid the ground work for the house decorations, fraternity and sorority floats, the big dance, the crowning of the Homecoming queen, and the big parade.

Then came November and old man snow decided that he too would be present for this gala affair and, altho not invited, he was still winter king and a king is not to be snubbed. Come he did, in one of the worst snow storms to hit this region the last thirty-three years, with a record snow very, very deep. Old grads were snowed in in Kansas, stopped in Nebraska, decided not to leave home in Chicago and New York, but this did not stop the locals and the cry was "on to the Hawaiian Village" for the crowning of the Queen. The place was jammed and anxiety and anticipation ran high as the ballots were being counted to determine who would reign as queen of the Homecoming. All five contestants were running neck and neck until the final ballot was cast. This saw Miss Nancy Bryson pull ahead by a small margin to win a closely contested and hard-fought race.

The football game was played the next day on Washburn field before a group of five hundred shivering fans against State Teachers. This game was played in sub-zero weather and the previously undefeated Tigers dropped the game to the Teachers by a narrow one-touchdown margin.

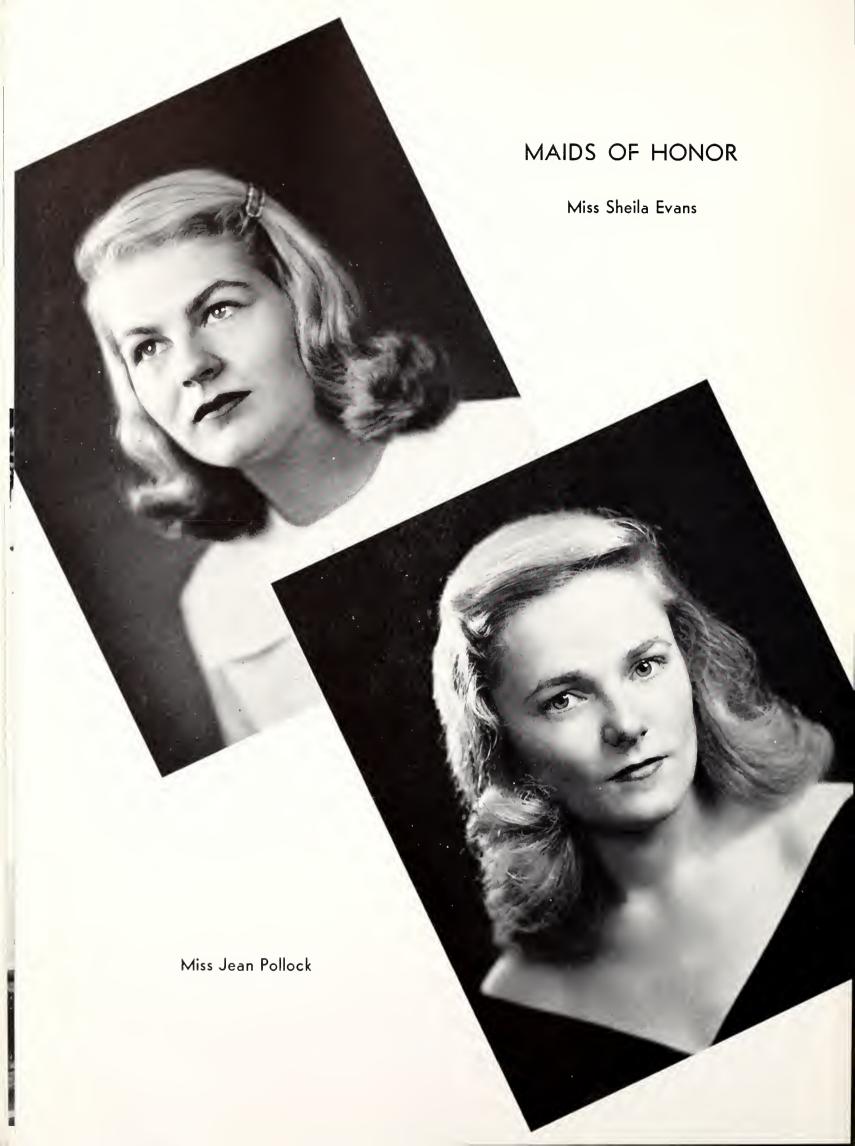

The Homecoming week-end was climaxed by a big dance at the Broadmoor sponsored by the graduate Homecoming committee—a good time was had by all except me—because I got my car stuck in the mud in front of the Hotel and I am to this day taking soundings to see if there is any trace of it.

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE COLLEGE YEAR

On September 17, 1946, Colorado College opened the doors of its residence halls to receive the first completely civilian undergraduate student body since 1942. The students ranged in age from the bewildered 17 year olds who had never previously been away from their mothers—to those 27 or older that had seen a few years of pre-war college life, the bloody battle fields of the Pacific and Europe and had traveled over the world.

To the youngsters it was new and exciting and they were eager for their long heralded college career. To the older ones it was another job to be finished as quickly as possible.

Placement tests were held on the 19th of September and were followed by registration on the 23rd and 24th. The 25th saw the first day of instruction. This was the end of the enthusiasm for some and as college life goes the class rooms may or may not have become complete boredom. October was eventful with fraternity and sorority rushing, football games, formal and informal parties.

The first of November saw the worst snow storm that had hit Colorado in 33 years. The C.C.-Mines football game was postponed because of bad weather on the 2nd of November.

The 8th and 9th of November was Homecoming at C. C. . . . This event was completely covered by snow and sub-zero weather.

Armistice Day was ironically celebrated on Monday the 11th and was the occasion for a holiday. This was followed by the Thanksgiving Day holidays during which the student body moved out in force for the D.U.-C.C. football game at Denver— and the skiing slopes. This holiday reluctantly ended but was shortly followed by the Christmas vacation starting the 20th of December which lasted until the 6th of January. Students began to study belatedly for semester exams and became casually acquainted with what had gone on in the class room since September.

The second semester registration was held on the 8th of February and classes were started on the 10th. The gay social whirl started anew with the Tiger-Nugget dance and the Gold-diggers Ball and an endless parade of sorority and fraternity parties.

Skiing was still a popular event and with summer like mid-March weather the golfers headed for the links, sunbathers occupied every roof top and baseball and track started with great vigor.

The boxing and wrestling tournament packed 'em in — in pre-war fashion.

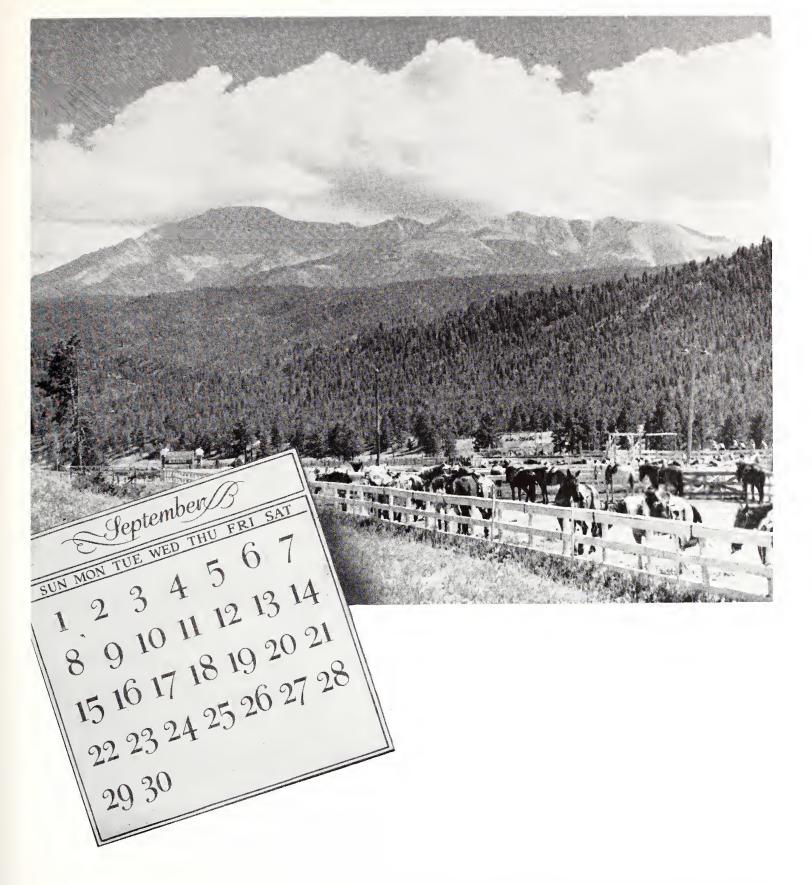

Spring vacation started the 3rd of April and students scattered to the four corners of the country like bees out of a hive.

April 14th saw the end of Spring recess and forlorn undergraduates returned to cram for comprehensives. The not so forlorn returned to the beer busts, picnics, parties, formals, and general gaiety of the spring season.

The Junior-Senior prom was held the 29th of May in honor of the Senior class and Memorial Day was a holiday for the whole school.

Finals started the 7th of June and the baccalaurate services were held in Shove chapel on the 8th. All students had finished exams by the 10th and had departed, with some remaining to attend commencement exercises the 14th.

The 14th of June will long be memorable to the departing seniors, who, on this day had the grim realization that theirs was to be an active part in the troubled world of that day.

TIGER-NUGGET DANCE

The Tiger Nugget dance is generally accepted as one of the finer social events of the year. It was at this dance that the newly inaugurated Miss Colorado College was selected. This beauty was chosen by popular vote of the student body and the votes were balloted at the door of the dance. Miss Colorado College for 1947 was Barbara Stark. She was chosen on an over all basis of beauty, charm, personality, character, and prominence.

It is known that the selection of Miss Stark was a hard one by the student body because of the close competition of the other contestants — each one in her own right possessing great charm and beauty.

The dance was a great success socially and was one of the few dances held by the student body where one could actually enjoy dancing.
